Cover and Interior Images

The cover image and the images on the pages of this book are taken from a mural in the Commons of Saint Mary's Press. Painted by local artist Julia Crozier in 2005, this mural illustrates the life of Saint John Baptist de La Salle and the continuation of his ministry in the modern world. Various scenes depict De La Salle's work with poor children in France, the development of his classroom model of education, the printing press and the use of books as learning tools, and, finally, the evolution of computers and a digitally connected world.

You, too, . . . are angels sent by God to prepare a path for him, so that he can enter your heart and the hearts of your disciples.

—Saint John Baptist de La Salle
Meditation on the Second Sunday of Advent

I see the face of Christ in my students.

—Dave

Each year, I hope to make a difference in my students' lives, to pass on the faith, as well as involvement in service to those in need, to inspire my students to "pay it forward."

—Kathleen Lewis

Technology is an essential tool for education in today's world. Use it to its fullest, and you will meet your students where they are.

—Mark Lang

I want my kids to see with new eyes and never stop learning.

—Tom Kittridge

I hope my students grow to be the best versions of themselves. I hope I continue to learn, grow, inspire, and be my best self, as well.

—Marianne Harris McGah
